Vladislav Munimaev

Senior Full-stack Web Developer

I am a full-stack developer, and I see the meaning of my work as making the life of users easier and helping them in solving their problems. The interface should be convenient, understandable, predictable, work quickly and, ideally, bring joy.

Personal qualities

Creativity. On all projects, he always offered ideas and solutions for tasks with incomplete or inaccurate requirements.

Initiative I make improvements to the processes. Often I take on tasks that are beyond my responsibility.

Responsibility I will carefully double-check my tasks myself, trying to capture as many cases of using the new functionality as possible. I make sure that my changes do not break the existing logic.
